The market was closed to-day.

CHEMICALS.

This week passed with some animation in Dextrine, Aniline Salt, and Zinc Chloride. There was a good deal of scarcity of Dextrine and Aniline Salt, with the result that the prices had advanced very rapidly. However, the recent arrivals have eased the market to some extent and the prices quoted are Rs. 45 and Rs. 1/1/- respectively. Japanese Farina has touched nearly Rs. 24 Bichromate-Soda is undergoing a slow and sustained rise in value and the last price had some reaction and several lots changed hands at Rs. 63/64 per cwt. Zinc and Magnesium Chlorides continued in demand but with no appreciable rise in value. Sago-Flour arrived and is quoted at Rs. 16/8/0; Sulphate-Alumina-German had some life this week with the price ruling at Rs. 12. Quotations are as under :—

Aniline Salt Rs. 1-1-0; Antimony Salt Rs 1-5-0; Epsom Salt Rs. 6-12-0; Glauber Salt Rs. 5; Bicarbonate Soda Rs. 14; Bichromate Soda Rs. 56d Caustic Soda Rs. 34; Sulphide Soda Rs. 24-8-0; Washing Soda Rs. 9; Zinc Chloride Rs. 23; Magnesium Chloride Rs. 7; Calcium Chloride Rs. 7-8-0; Dextrine Rs. 45; Farina Rs. 24;

MILL STORES.

There is still or no life and activity in mill-stores markets. Important commodities such as Healds and Reeds are still very quiet, and are quoted at Rs. 2-5-0 and Rs. 0/5/0 respectively. However, there has been a report that a duty of 15 per cent will be recovered on Cotton Healds instead of 2½ per cent. This will surely have adverse effect on textile Industry, since, Healds form one of the most important commodities required in Weaving-Departments, and to tax such an important commodity so exorbitantly is really strange.

Woolen goods and Bobbins ruled very quiet. Leather-Sundries, too, had no vigour, excepting Pickers which changed hands at Rs. 75 (English).

Quotations are as under:—

Healds Rs. 2-6-0; Reeds Rs. 0-5-0; Roller Cloth Rs. 10; Roller Cloth (18 oz.) Rs. 10-8-0; Tubular Banding Rs. 2-3-0 (Oldham); Tubular Banding (Kenion) Rs. 2-6-0; Cylinder and Docer Fillets Rs. 0-14-0; Cylinder and Doffer Fillets (Syke) Rs. 1-0-0; Card Cans (36 x 9) Rs. 5-8-0; Roller Skin English Rs. 75; Picking Bands Rs. 2-6-0; Pickers No. 4 Rs. 75.

AGAINST SLAUGHTER OF COWS.

PIECEGOODS MERCHANTS' RESOLUTION

The following resolutions have been passed by the Bombay Native Piecegoods Merchants' Association at its special general meeting on the 7th instant:—

"That this Association strongly protests against the indiscriminate slaughter of cows and buffaloes in the slaughter houses in Bombay Municipal Area which has adversely affected the economical interests of the people at large and led to the abnormal rise in the prices of milk, ghee and grains."

"That this Association heartily supports the proposal to prevent the slaughter of cows and buffaloes brought forward by Mr. W. T. Halai in the Bombay Municipal Corporation and recommends to all the members of the Corporation that considering the religious and economic conditions of the people they will be pleased to pass that proposal unanimously."

PLANCHETTE PRICE INCLUDING POSTAGE AND PACKING

Rs. 5-8

THIS Wonderful Planchette is made of wood and is shaped like a heart. Underneath are two pantagraph wheels about two inches high. There is a hole in the so made plank of board. In this hole is fixed an ordinary pencil which is so adjusted as to form as it were, the third leg of the Planchette. In the centre of the Planchette is fixed an electrified magnetic compound having full SPIRITUAL and MESMERIC power. 'This is the special pattern of Professor N.-P. Kotie). The Planchette is then placed upon a sheet of white paper and two persons lay their hands lightly upon it, not in any way influencing its motion. Then one of them or a third person, asks a question, and the wheels move. The Planchette traverses the paper, and the pencil, of course, following the motion of the wheels, write, the reply very distinctly and freely. It is not necessary to ask the question aloud, a mental question is quite sufficient, and all languages are alike to the Planchette. Our Planchette is unique. Any body may use. It immediately writes the answers of the questions put to it. Every body should own a Planchette. Price Rs. 5/8 (9s. 4d.) including postage and packing.

NUISANCE NEAR A MASJID !

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—What is the rate at which our City Fathers despatch their regular work? Here is an instructive illutration! The residents of Khoja street sent a memorial to the President of the Corporation on the 4th February 1921 praying for the removal of Latrines, night soil depot, and Kutchra carts—all located in the vicinity of a Mosque in Khoja street. The petitioners added, that their religious susceptibilities were wounded, and their health adversely affected by the existence of this triple nuisance. The matter was referred to the Commissioner. The Commissioner brought it before the Standing Committee. The Standing Committee refered it to its Sub-committee. And after sixteen months, the matter is coming up before the Corporation to-day or Thursday next for final disposal!

The writer is not aware of any other case in Bombay, where Latrines, night soil depots and Kutchra carts are all located near a place of worship! In fact, there is on record a Resolution of the Corporation No. 4318 of 1900—1901 moved by the late lamented Dr. Ismail Janmahomed and seconded by Mr. Manmohandas Ramji stating that "Urinals and night soil depots near Mahajanwadis, Jamat-Khana or places of worship cannot be allowed.' And yet this frightful, baneful nuisance continues, which is indeed regrettable. Now the Latrines can be removed without much expense. The location of the Kutchra carts can also be changed without inconvenience to the Municipal Health Department. And as regards the night soil depot, it can be dispensed with since there are two depots in the vicinity, one at Islampura and the other at Bapty Road.

It is hoped, that our City Fathers, after sixteen months of deliberation will resolve to remove all these nuisances and not rest content with the half-hearted measures recommended by the Standing Committee. It is really regrettable and discreditable for a city Municipality to allow such a terrible nuisance to exsist in the vicinity of a Place of Worship. More I need not say.—Yours, etc.

EUROPEAN FANCY DRESS BALL.

(FROM A CORRESPONDENT.)

The Jazz Club gave a Fancy Dress Ball on Friday night at the Town Hall and are to be congratulated upon the success of the evening. The Orchestra was all that could be desired. The G. I. P. have always been recognised as possessing the finest band in Bombay for Dance Music and considering that several numbers played by them only arrived by the last mail they certainly did well on this occasion. A Battle of Confetti was held at midnight and gave great amusement to all present.

Splendid arrangements were made for catering, this being in the hands of Watson's Hotel.

The Fancy Dresses were remarkably good and the Judging Committee had great difficulty in deciding to whom to award the prizes. The result was as follows:—

Best Dressed Lady.

Miss Lennon. "Persian Lady."

Mrs. G. T. Smith. Most Original. "Twink" Dyes.

Several others deserve honourable mention.

Mrs. Tounishy as a Billiard Table certainly deserved a Prize, and Miss Brown, dressed as a Parsee Lady, caused a sensation.

The Gentlemen's Prizes were awarded to "The Prehistoric Man" and "Jazz."

After a very delightful evening "God save the King" was played at 2-30 a.m.

BOMBAY POLICE COURTS.

PAREL SHOOTING CASE.

ACCUSED COMMITTED TO SESSIONS.

At the Dadar Police Court on Saturday afternoon before Mr. I. N. Mehta, Acting Fifth Presidency Magistrate hearing was resumed of the case in which Sub-Inspector Karaka of the B. B. & C. I. Railway Police charged John Flanagan, (56) an Anglo-Indian ex-driver with attempting to murder Mr. F. J. Page, Loco-Superintendent, B. B. & C. I. Railway at Parel on the 3rd May last, under the circumstances already reported.

Mr. M. A. Lahiwalla prosecuted while Mr. V. N. Vedak, pleader, defended the accused.

SUB-INSPECTOR KARAKA'S EVIDENCE

Mr. Shyavax Jamshedji Karaka, Sub-Inspector, B. B. & C. I. Railway Police, who resides at Dadar said that on the 3rd May he was in his Office at Grant Road. About 10 o'clock the Stationmaster, Parel informed him that Mr. Page, Loco-Superintendent, was shot there. He, thereupon, proceeded to Parel at about 10-15 a.m., and saw Mr. Page on the down platform there. Mr. Page was in a very bad condition and was conscious but weak. He saw a patch of blood on the chest. He got Mr. Page removed to the St. Georges' Hospital under the supervision of Dr. Khambatta. The accused was at this time in custody of the Railway Police. The revolver was with Inspector Karnik of the Delisle Road Police Station who also was there. Afterwards he took charge of the revolver from Inspector Karnik, opened it in the presence of the Punch and found five cartridges in tact and two fired. He then went to the hospital an hour after, and had Mr. Page's dying deposition taken in the presence of the accused. He learnt from the accused that he had come from Rutlam five or six days ago and put up with one Mrs. Bomfield at New Nagpada. He, then, with Mr. Karnik went to Mrs. Bomfield's place and she produced the accused's box and bedding. The box was opened in the presence of the Punch and they found in a small box six cartridges of the same calibre.

EYE-WITNESS'S EVIDENCE.

Mr. Alfred Norman Dixie, Electrical Superintendent, G. I. P. Railway deposed that he know Mr. Page. On the morning of the 3rd May he met Mr. Page at Churchgate Station at about 9-30 and both of them and two other officers left for Parel by a local train. They got down at Parel Station. Witness was slightly ahead of Mr. Page at Parel and going towards the level crossing. They, then, walked up to the end of the platform. At that time he heard some loud reports. Then, he saw Mr. Page staggering. He asked him (Mr. Page) if had been hurt, but he did not reply. He thought something had happened to Mr. Page and he helped him to the Ticket Office. Just as they were inside the door of the Office a man appeared outside on the platform in front of the door and Mr. Page asked that man: "Why did you do this"? That man was the accused. The accused had a revolver in his hand. He remained on the spot till Mr. Page was removed to the hospital.

Mr. Framroz Bapooji Joshi, Head Clerk, Loco Superintendent Office, Parel, corroborated the above witness.

Mrs. Elinore Bromfield residing at Nagpada, next deposed that on the 1st May the accused was brought by his son who asked her to put him up for a few days as he was looking out for a house. On the morning of the 3rd May after breakfast, the accused left her place leaving his box and bedding.

RECORD OF ACCUSED'S SERVICE.

Marcus Francis Delaney, Accountant B. B. & C. I. Railway Office, said he knew the accused and produced Service Register showing that the accused was employed on 22nd March 1907 and dismissed from service on 28th December 1914. He produced another Register showing that the accused was re-employed on 26th April 1920 and dismissed from service on 29th August 1921.

After the evidence of the last witness had been recorded, the accused on being questioned by His Worship replied that he would make his statement in the High Court.

His Worship committed the accused to the ensuing Criminal Sessions to take his trial.

TERROR OF MAVALIS AT MATUNGA.

Mr. J. G. Nensey gave this office, a little after 10 o'clock last night, the following news, of the terror of Mavalis at Matunga, over the 'phone:—

"Between 9 and 10 p.m. to-day (Saturday), Mavalis numbering about ten, worked havoc among the peaceful citizens of Matunga. The Mavalis who seemed to be under the influence of drink, armed with 'dandas' went round the bazaar belabouring shop-keepers and others who came in their way. They were bent on mischief and created a havoc. Many of the shop-keepers, who generally keep their shops open till a late hour, were terror-stricken and they ran away for safety after closing their shops. A few plucky persons, notably the Bhaiyas who offered resistance, were mercilessly beaten. Two of the Bhaiyas who were roughly handled received very severe injuries. No police help could be had from Matunga, so a word was sent to the Dadar Police Station. A few policemen eventually arrived from Dadar, and the Mavalis on seeing them, at once ran away. Not one of them could be arrested."

RAMZAN ID AT ANJAR

HINDU MOSLEM ENTENTE CORDIALE,

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

ANJAR (CUTCH), June 9.

That the Hindu-Moslem unity is not merely a verbal clap trap was shown conclusively at Anjar on the Ramzan Id day when the Hindu residents heartily participated in the celebration by their Moslem comrades. At 7-30 a.m. the procession left the Musjid and when it reached the Madhavraiji's Chawk a large number of the Hindu citizens and students swelled its ranks and accompanied the Moslems to the Idgah, where the Hindu students recited the Khilafat song with evident gusts, and were given sugar-cakes by the Memon philanthropists. On the return journey of the procession from the Idgah to the Musjid, the Hindu citizens and students accompanied, their Moslem brethren to the end, the students enlivening the journey by reciting national songs, and some elderly folk by their dexterous sword-play and other feats of physical strength.

At 5 p.m. a mixed meeting of Hindus and Moslems was held on the Pir's Durgah Maidan on the outskirts of the Idgah, as many as 500 Hindus and 100 members of the depressed classes having joined the Moslems numbering over 2,500 souls. Messrs. Jadavji Zaverchand Gandhi, Brihaspate Ladharam Kavi, Sadhuvi Jayluxmi of Bhuj, Tulsidas Kriparam, Abdul Latif and Kantiprasad delivered impressive speeches on the Hindu-Moslem entente cordiale, the moral import of the Khilafat movement and the outstanding importance, from the economic point of view, of putting on Khadi as a religious duty. Master Raval then sang some national songs to the accompaniment of the harmonium, and the meeting broke up at 7 p.m. with the cries of "Bande Mataram" and "Ray Khengar-ki-jai."

CHOLERA IN BENGAL.

FALL DUE TO ADVENT OF RAIN.

(Associated Press.)

CALCUTTA, June 10.

With the advent of rain the cholera epidemic which had been raging in almost every district of Bengal, during the last two and a half months, shows abatement. Acute drought, ignorance of the public and the scarcity of drinking water, are reported to have been the causes of the spread of this epidemic.

The Public Health Department are doing their utmost to fight the epidemic, but their chief difficulties in adopting earlier preventing measures lay in getting a prompt report of the outbreak during the week ended the 3rd instant.

Midnapore, Khulna, Bogra, Pabna and Dacca showed a rise, while in the worst effected districts, the death-rate showed a marked falling-off. The number in Calcutta fell from 48 to 24, Mymensingh 101 to 73, Alipore 53 to 33, Jessore 41 to 31, Murshidabad 20 to 6, Rajshahi 17 to 4, Noakhali 15 to 9, Chittagong 10 to 5 and Tipperah 10 to 6.

UMRETH MUNICIPALITY.

EXECUTIVE HIGHHANDEDNESS.

(FROM OUR CORRESPONDENT.)

UMRETH, June 8.

Some very sanguine people expected that in this "New Era" at least when a Minister was appointed and the portfolio for Local Self-Government was handed over to him there would be a genuine desire on his part to put into practice what had so long existed in theory. Local Self-Government has not at all advanced these many years; if anything, steps are being taken to take away the powers that have already been given to the Municipalities. A fine example of this bureaucratic method can be seen in Umreth. Umreth is a biggish town in the Anand Taluka, where the Conference was lately held, on which the privilege of electing its own president was conferred some time back. The gentleman adorning the presidential chair hitherto was a retired Mamlatdar, Mr. Purshottam A. Dave. Umreth could elect, under the new rules, 12 members and three are nominated by Government and Mr. Dave appointed the polling day before he retired at the end of his term. In the first ward there were four seats and five candidates, in the second there was no contest and in the third again there were three seats and four candidates. The President, however, on the ground that he was not the person named removed the polling box of one of the candidates in the first ward and hence there was no contest here too. But one of the gentlemen, who was returned in the first ward, resigned his seat and contested again in the third ward, where also he had stood as a candidate, in order that he might ought a N. C. O. candidate. The Collector fixed March 31 as the day for the new election in the first ward. There were new two candidates for the one seat vacant in the first ward, namely, Mr. Keshavlal V. Dvivedi and Mr. Nathji Jhaveri, the latter gentleman being forced into the contest in order to defeat Mr. Dvivedi, who was believed to be a sympathiser with the N. C. O. movement, although he was a Government pensioner. Mr. Jhaveri, however, withdraw his candidature on March 28 and Mr. Keshavlal was the only candidate in the field now. The President of the municipality accordingly informed the Mamlatdar not to send a polling officer and he cancelled the meeting of the Municipality, which was going to be held for the declaration of the result of the contest. A meeting was also convened on April 3 for appointing new office bearers of the Municipality. The President informed the Collector that as one of the candidates had resigned the remining one had been elected, and he sent to him all the papers in the matter and asked for the latter's orders. The President's move, it was suspected, was to delay the declaration of the result before the appointment of new office-bearers. Mr. Keshavlal in the meantime saw the Collector on the 31st March and told him that he was duly elected and that a declaration should, therefore, be made to that effect. The President, however, who was a retired Government official was trying all along for his own re-election as President for the next year, and he wanted to delay the declaration of the result as there was a likelihood of Mr. Keshavlal being elected President. He then wrote to the Mamlatdar that Mr. Keshavlal's election was invalid and that a fresh election should take place. The Collector also ordered a fresh election as the formality of a voting, etc., had not been gone through, for which there was no necessity as one of the candidates had retired. The polling day was again fixed for April 21. A meeting of the Municipality was, however, held on April 3 as previously arranged. There were two candidates for the the chairmanship of the meeting, Mr. Chunilal Rasiklal Parakh and Mr. Kazi. The Mamlatdar Mr. Ambalal B. Desai invited himself to cast lots, although it was none of his business to do so without the sanction of all the members. The members, naturally, objected to this high-handed behaviour, but that official told the assembly that he was the Mamlatdar and also a magistrate and had every right to do what he liked.

Mr. Parakh, however, took the chair, as he was duly elected chairman of the meeting. This was too much for Mr. Desai and he asked Mr. Parakh at once to vacate the chair or he would have to bear the consequences of his refusal. Mr. Parakh objected to the remarks, suggested that he was lawfully elected to the chair and questioned the Mamlatdar's rights to dictate to the meeting. The Mamlatdar said that he was there at the meeting not in his capacity as a member of the Municipality, but as a magistrate! Mr. Parakh, who knows more law than the Mamlatdar, stood to his guns and refused to vacate the chair. The Mamlatdar then threatened to have him ejected by the Sub-Inspector of Police, who was specially called by him to be present at the meeting. The Sub-Inspector, who perhaps knew that the Mamlatdar knew very little of law, did not interfere except to the extent of preventing Mr. Parakh from writing the minutes of the meeting. The Mamlatdar then said he was going to make an order under Section 144 of the Criminal Procedure Code against Mr. Parakh. Mr. Parakh demanded a written order to that effect and told Mr. Desai that he had no power to make such an order as Government had not given him the necessary powers for that purpose. The Sub-Inspector in the meantime took away the minutes book forcibly from the hands of Mr. Parakh, without giving any reason. The meeting was, therefore, adjourned sine die, as the minutes book was snatched away from the chairman's hands. The Mamlatdar then reported to the Collector and the latter fixed April 12 for the appointment of new office-bearers and he deputed the Collector, Mr. M. S. Moulvi, to watch the proceedings. There were again differences of opinion among the members, one side suggesting that they should adjourn till the 15th member was elected and the other side suggesting that they should cast lots. The meeting was infructuous and the Collector sent up the papers to the local government for orders under Section 23 (2A) of the Bombay District Municipalities Act. The Minister selected Mr. P. A. Dave, of course, on the Collector's recommendation as the present for the next year, although he had very little chance in an open contest. In another direction the new elections took place and Mr. Keshavlal Drivedi was returned by a majority of 71 votes, athough his opponent had the backing of the Government offilials of the town of Umreth. It must also be mentioned that great efforts were made to declare Mr. Keshavlal disqualified, but it was useless.

In the meantime the cause of local self-government has been advanced by the Minister taking away the right of the Municipality to elect its own president, which right had only been conferred a short while ago, and had not yet been made use of. The Mamlatdar has been now trans-

THE A. I. C. C.

The scrappy reports of the proceedings of the All-India Congress Committee at Lucknow, furnished by the Associated Press, fail to give any adequate or coherent idea of the discussions that took place at the meeting. It is not difficult, however, to see that considerable depth of feeling was displayed by the members of the Committee from Bengal, U.P. and the Punjab. The fact is that these provinces have been given over to a policy of systematic and unabashed repression, and in the words of Dr. Ansari, they all feel that "self-respect" and "national honour" demand a more effective answer —an answer that can be immediately felt by a power-mad bureaucracy. While we fully sympathise with them in their desire, however short-sighted, we must counsel patience and perseverence in the first essential of success, namely the fulfilment of the constructive programme. In a previous article, we have indicated the need for more intensive work than has hitherto been attempted, and urged the different Provincial Congress Committees to select a particular taluka or talukas in their jurisdiction even as Mahatmaji did with the Bardoli and Anand Talukas of Gujerat and bring them up to the requisite standard of self-control and discipline. As it is, it seems to us that much time has been lost, since Mahatmaji's imprisonment, in mere wordy warfare and that the country has not applied itself to the fulfilment of the duty imposed on it so vigorously as it ought to have done. We are glad to think that the All-India Congress Committee fully recognizes this and the resolution that was finally adopted by it rightly insists "that the carrying out of the constructive programme will be the best preparation for even mass civil disobedience, while it will also be the most effective means of furthering the objects of the Congress." Consideration of the question of civil disobedience has been postponed till the 15th August when the committee will meet in Calcutta and, in the meantime, an earnest appeal is made to the country to concentrate all its efforts upon carrying out the constructive programme to the fullest extent and to endeavour to complete it within the shortest possible period. It is gratifying to note that the worst possible form of repression has failed to extinguish the flame of freedom that was kindled nearly two years ago. A simple test of whether repression has failed to crush the Non-Co-operation Movement is to ask oneself the question whether the spirit of the people to court arrest, imprisonment and subsequent suffering in jail has flagged, as a result of Government's unrelenting policy. The arrests, prosecutions and imprisonments, reported day after day from not one part of the country but from different parts, afford convincing proof, if proof were needed, of the undaunted spirit of the people. There are indubitable indications that repression has failed to instil into the hearts of the people a sense of affection for a system of Government that has long ceased to respond to public opinion.

In other respects, too, the country has been making rapid strides, but there is still room for considerable improvement. The effective organisation and management of the khadi branch of national work is expected to go a long way in stimulating the production of pure khadi on a large scale and centralisation will, we hope, lead to greater co-ordination between the Provinces. While great attention has been paid to the collection of Tilak Swaraj Fund and the enlistment of Congress members, it is to be regretted that the removal of untouchability and other forms of Social Service, outlined in the Bardoli-Cum-Delhi programme, have not progressed pari passu with the rest of the Congress activities. It is therefore the first and foremost duty of all the Provincial Congress Committees to concentrate on all these aspects of work and fulfil their obligations between now and the next meeting of the All-India Congress Committee, and at the same time to strive to prepare definite areas on the lines we have indicated.

A sad feature of the meeting at Lucknow was the open defection of the Maharashtra Provincial Congress Committee at a critical juncture like the present when every atom of national energy should be used in fulfilling the Congress programme. The Committee was conspicuous by the absence of its members at the Lucknow meetings and of course, it was by no means surprising. It is an open secret that the Committee was at no time whole-hearted in its adhesion to the Congress policy or programme, while it has lost no opportunity of obstructing the path of national progress, by its short-sighted outlook and lack of imagination. It has been our unpleasant duty to criticize in the past the attitude of sitting on the fence, adopted by the Maharashtra Committee, while the battle of freedom has been going on, and thereby delaying the chances of success. Reverses and set-backs are inevitable in all struggles, and we cannot regard the defection of Maharashtra as an overwhelming catastrophe. Tragic as the circumstance is, it is better that the country should know once for all to what extent it can count upon Maharashtra for the furtherance of national policy. But it is amazing that the Maharashtra Committee should have sought to impose its will on the All-India Congress Committee, while carefully keeping at a safe distance from its meetings, and have telegraphed the injunction to postpone discussion on questions of entry into councils, etc. In this connection many stories have been current about the reasons for the defection of Maharashtra members but we do not think them credible or that the members are so careless of their own self-respect that they would be amenable to pressure from undesirable or suspicious quarters. However that may be, in their case there cannot possibly be any question of misunderstanding, with the extreme intellectualism of many of them. Frankly, it seems that they are out of sympathy with the Congress policy, their professions notwithstanding, and it is a matter of congratulation that the All-India Committee has not listened to its false guides and retraced its steps. That is a great gain in itself, for nothing could have been more mischievous at the present moment than to alter in the least degree the course set for the country by its leader.

THE UMRETH MUNICIPALITY CASE.

In another column we print an account of the arbitrary and rather high handed treatment accorded to the Umreth Municipality by the Minister for Local Self-Government. This is not an isolated instance. The glaring examples of Ahmedabad, Surat and Nadiad are before the people already. But in this case, it will be seen, the behaviour of both officials and their henchman is not only illegal, but opposed to fair play and justice. The Umreth Municipality was given the right of electing its own chairman only a short while ago and, simply because the officials hopelessly bungled the elections, that right has been taken away from the body. It is now getting to be a fashion to make use of section 144 of the Criminal Procedure Code whenever an inconvenient Non-Cooperator has to be got rid of, and the Mamlatdar was not backward in brandishing that section in the face of Mr. Parakh, knowing well that he had no power to do so. It is amazing that a magistrate of some years' standing should be stupid enough to hold out that threat to a gentleman who was doing his duty as a member of the Municipality; and it is more amazing still that Government should condone his actions. This Mamlatdar has since been transferred from Umreth, but the policy for which he worked still stands. The official henchman is made president on the recommendation of the Collector, and the Municipality is deprived of its right. What business had this pinch-beck Cromwell to summon the Police Sub-Inspector to clear the Municipal Hall of all members, and what right had he to take the Minute-book away? It must be remembered that the members concerned are not N. C. O's. But, what was equally bad, they were suspected of sympathising with the movement and for this crime all this humiliation was heaped on them. Mr. Ghulam Hussain, the Minister in charge of the department, only a few days ago, was complaining in these columns of some sentimental grievance and asked for fair play and justice. Can he not spare some of these virtues for the Umreth Municipality?

Notes of the Day

Burma Reforms: Official Propaganda.

Official propagandists are after all poor hands at canvassing public opinion. The Publicity officer of the Burma Government has wired to his fellow officer in Madras to say that Burmese opinion since the publication of the Burmese reforms scheme on Tuesday last is non-existent, "almost". This curious reservation is accounted for by what follows. The "Rangoon Daily News," a paper controlled by Mr. Ginwala, M. L. A., and also member of the Whyte Committee, and edited by Mr. Vedamurti, thinks, says the Burma Publicity Officer, "that the scheme should be hailed with delight." We dare say it does. The very fact that the paper is controlled by Mr. Ginwala, who is a staunch supporter of the Reform Scheme and an ardent advocate of communal representation for the Parsi settlers in Burma, is sufficient to show that the opinion of the paper could not be otherwise; but to say, as was said by the Associated Press that the paper has adopted "the Congress attitude" is to mislead public opinion. The very fact that we have mentioned above is against such an assumption. Then, again, the paper cannot be and has never been regarded as representative of real Burmese opinion. Even the Burma Publicity officer, who is anxious that we should not judge Burmese opinion prematurely, has been constrained to admit that "opinion for some time past has been expressed by a portion of the Burmese leaders' group that Home rule and not dyarchy is wanted." The position in Burma as elsewhere is that the vast bulk of the population is against the so-called reforms, which merely tend to postpone the era of Freedom. While the Anglo-Indian and Moderate organs are jubilant or are content to accept the dole, in the absence of something better, we are fortified in our view that real Burmese opinion is condemnatory of the scheme by a telegram that we have received to the effect that the "Rangoon Mail"—a Pro-Congress Paper—has written criticising the reforms and condemning dyarchy. The absence of Burmese opinion is explained by the fact that Rangoon and other districts have been "proclaimed" under the Seditious Meetings Act, and no public meetings can be held by those who differ from Government in their views. When the General Council of the Burmese Associations attempted to hold a meeting in one of the unproclaimed areas, with a view to consider the Whyte Committee report, and reject the Scheme, the meeting was arbitrarily broken up by the authorities! Therefore, when the Publicity officer of the Burma Government says that there is no expression of Burmese opinion on the Reform scheme, he is right; only he has failed to mention that the local Government have made it impossible for Burmans to give expression to their opinions.

National Education And Government.

Surat and Ahmedabad could not have answered the challenge of the Bombay Government in suppressing their Municipalities better than by more largely patronising the National Schools established in these cities by non-cooperationists. Although it had long ago been made clear to Government that an overwhelming preponderance of the rate-payers was solidly behind the N. C. O. leaders in the Municipality, Government would pin their faith to their false guides—the Cooperators—and have by their action given the rate-payers furiously to think. Mr. Pratt, the late Commissioner, N. D., suffering from a long-nourished obsession that he was the Ma Bap of the people of Gujarat sowed the wind, only to reap the whirlwind of popular opposition, when he forcibly took "illegal" possession of Municipal Schools. In spite of the frantic efforts of Mr. Pratt and his subordinates, the rate-payers would not send their children to Government-controlled schools, and the popular impression is that the Municipalities were suppressed because of Mr. Pratt's chagrin. The Committees of Management which were set up by the Government have brought the Government no nearer a solution of the eternal problem of "Government versus Public opinion." The Committees started under unfavourable auspices and have already demonstrated their futility whether in the field of education, sanitation or water supply. That is the present lamentable position in both the Municipalities, for which the Government must be held primarily responsible. In the matter of education, the Committee of Management has failed entirely, notwithstanding that the Municipal schools are run at an enormous recurring expenditure. The schools are practically empty, and coercive methods have rightly failed to induce parents to withdraw their children from national schools or send them to Government controlled institutions. An Associated Press telegram admits how in spite of the application of the Compulsory Primary Education Act in Surat, the attendance at national schools is increasing while that in recognized Municipal schools is declining. It is high time that both the Ministers for Local Self-Government and Education awoke to the significance of the struggle that is going on in Surat and Ahmedabad, and retraced their steps before it is too late. They ought to learn, if they do not already know, that no Government, however mighty, can coerce a whole city into something that is objectionable on conscientious grounds, or whip reluctant people to enthusiasm.

Segregation in Kampala.

Some days back, when an Associated Press message brought us the news of the decision of the Colonial office to apply the Segregation Scheme in the limited area of Kampala, we positively asserted that the proposal could never meet with the approval of the Kampala Indians despite the reply of the Under-Secretary of State that the town-planning scheme was approved of by the Indians. The consistent manner in which the Indians in Kenya are opposing any suggestions regarding segregation is a sufficient guarantee of their united and determined condemnation of the Colonial Office decision. Any doubts that may still have lingered in the minds of Indians in this country have now been dispelled by the cable that Mr. Andrews received from Kampala stating that Kampala Indians' attitude regarding segregation in local township areas has been unchanged since he left and that there is no truth in the assertion of the Colonial Office that the local Indians approve the township plans involving racial segregation. Kampala Indians are cabling to that effect to the Colonial Office and the Government of India.

A Valet from Carlton Hotel.

Strictures were once passed against Mr. S. R. Bomanji for saying that Mr. Sastri had the time of his life, endeavouring to represent India in London and Washington. The immensity of Mr. Sastri's sacrifice in going round the world, again, is one of the Fourteen Points of Moderate doctrine. Recently it came out that Mr. Sastri was receiving £200 a month as honorarium besides staff-expenses and travelling allowances. Good. At the risk of incurring the strictures lavished on Mr. S. R, Bomanji we submit that Mr. Sastri's entourage is as big as that of a second cousin of the Prince of Wales who might choose to visit and conciliate India. A Ceylon paper thus describes Mr. Sastri's staff:—

> Mr. Sastri was accompanied by his Private Secretary, Mr. Bajpai, I.C.S., Director of Emigration, who goes with him to Australia. He is also attended by an English valet from the Carlton Hotel, London. Others of the party are Messrs. P. P. S. Sastri, M.A., and V. S. R. Sastri.

The two junior Sastris are relatives, one a son and the other a brother. The unique character of the group is the "English valet from the Carlton Hotel, London," who, we guess, is the Right. Honourable Gentleman's Lord Chamberlain and Turban Coiler. The tax-payer will appreciate it; but will he be H. E. the Governor's Private Secretary when he returns after quashing Mr. Hearst of the United States?

A Concatenaton of Words.

Mr. Sastri rose to fame by apt association and the gift of crystal verbosity, but the evil is growing on him. We invite the pestiferous authors of Liberal pamphlets to explain so involved a statement of Mr. Facing-both-ways as the following in an interview outside India:—

> He added that the people had begun to see the deliberate change for the worse in Lord Peel's policy although he (Mr. Sastri) saw no grounds for this pessimism. Regarding Gandhi's arrest the considered absence of violent demonstrations was the result of the realisation that the non-co-operation movement had been tried and had been found wanting, and could lead to no happy results.

The first sentence contains a warning to Lord Peel in the name of the people, though he, wise man, allows an individual qualification as the coming friend and chum of Lord Peel next Christmas Season. "People say so, but I am not pessimistic." The second sentence is so involved and positively inane that we leave it to the Sastrian Press to clarify the idea; for he admits that non-violence is deliberate and that violence was eschewed because it could lead to no happy results! The man has almost become a lunatic by the exuberance of his own verbosity. Right Honourable-ki-Jai!

The New Slogan.

Verily, the much-hackneyed "new angle of vision" is being done to death by the Bengal Chamber of Commerce. The old stunt of the supreme necessity of the English Judges and Magistrates and other officials for holding the balance even, has been abandoned, and the new slogan of the Bengal Chamber—representing European trade interests—is efficiency. Apropos the question of the proportion of Indian Judges in the High Court and Chief Courts, "the Committee of the Chamber foresee that there is a possible danger of the high standard of these Courts being affected if there is any disturbance of the principles which have guided the appointments to the Bench in the past." The Committee, after referring to what they consider the rapid (!) development during the past thirty years in the direction of increasing the Indian element, say "that they do regard it as absolutely essential that appointments should be based on efficiency alone." We might agree in this view provided the Chamber would qualify its observation so far as to insist upon efficiency combined with character. Otherwise it may turn out in the end that we get a soulless, machine-made efficiency, which no man of prudence would desire. However, if efficiency is to be the sole criterion, unaffected by political or other unworthy considerations, in the appointment of High Court Judges, we wonder why the Committee of the Bengal Chamber should feel any qualms of conscience at all where it is a question of the recognition of the natural, political and economic rights of Indians to predominate in the higher rungs of the judicial and other services. In the absolute essential of efficiency Indian Judges have never been found wanting, and even the Committee of the Bengal Chamber "freely recognize how much the administration of justice in India owes to the ability and thoroughness of the many brilliant Indian Judges who have occupied the Bench."

Blood is Thicker Than Water.

So, there should be no question about the right of Indian Judges to predominate in the High Courts, the Chief Courts and all other Courts of Justice in India. It is not likely that for a long time to come Indian Judges will cease to be the handmaidens of the bureaucracy, as many of them have proved in the past. In spite of it all, the Bengal Chamber would have no departure from the existing policy, which ensures for the European element extraordinary privileges and predominance. Nor are the Committee disposed to surrender the claims of Civilians to promotion to the High Court Bench. It has long been realized that English Civilian Judges are like square pegs in round holes and whatever may be the value of the Civilian in other capacities, he is worse than a failure as a dispenser of Justice, whether in the lowest or the highest Court. This is the more so in times of political unrest and excitement, and convincing proof will be found in many of the political cases disposed of by Civilian Judges and Magistrates. The position of the Bengal Chamber simply comes to this that, however strong and unimpeachable may be the claim of Indians to fill the Judgeships in the High and Chief Courts, the Chamber will not agree to any encroachments on the preserve of European Judges. The Chamber is not opposed to the claims of Indian Judges, but on the principle: "Blood is thicker than water", is not prepared to see the interests and privileges of Europeans sacrificed; and they are now bolstering up a specious plea to cover their selfish opposition to a just demand. The attitude of the Bengal Chamber merely confirms our suspicion that all the talk about the British Imperialists having modified their angle of vision is eyewash, and their willingness to co-operate with Indians does not extend to matters which would affect the privileges enjoyed by the European in this country.

SERIO-COMIC OPERATIONS AGAINST PETTIGOE.

MUCH NOISE BUT NO BONES BROKEN.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 9.

The statement in an official communique that with a view to preventing bloodshed the forces employed in operations against Pettigoe and Belleek were out of all, proportion to the resistance expected, explains the correspondent's ironical description of yesterday's operation.

Reuter's correspondent says that it was "altogether one of the most charming and most bloodless battles in history. The weather was perfect and the scenery ideal. The artillery shooting was masterly and the troops were full of good humour. The roll of gun fire among the splendid hills was poetic to a degree; and best of all, nobody was hurt. A private in the Lincolnshires had an abrasion on his forehead which did not bleed. But otherwise there was no evidence of bloodshed."

Kinematographers and photographers were extremely busy during the operations.

SEQUEL TO PETTIGOE AFFAIR,

DEPUTATION'S REQUEST TO RETAIN TROOPS.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 10.

A Deputation from Pettigoe, including its Rector, waited on the North Irish Minister for Home Affairs, in Belfast, to-day, and urged that the British troops would be allowed to remain in Pettigoe as otherwise the Protestant population would inevitably leave.

The Rector, who was a prisoner of war in Germany, said, in the interview, that the Germans were gentlemen compared with the raiders who, previous to the British occupation, came storming, at dawn, on Pettigoe armed to the teeth. Farm-boys of 18 or 20 flourishing rifles and revolvers, threatened life and destroyed property. They looted everywhere, and behaved more like savages than civilised beings. Several Loyalists, who were carried off when the raiders retreated, are still prisoners.

MR, COLLINS COUNSELS PEACE.

"PRESENT NO TIME FOR WAR"

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 9.

Speaking in Dublin to-night, Mr. Collins said that the people of the Free State should not play into the hands of their enemies, who had created an artificial situation on the Formanagh-Donegal border. Certain powerful elements in England had agents in the North East, whose policy was not merely to destroy the Irish Republic or the Free State, but to restore their ascendency over the whole of Ireland and restore the Act of Union. The present was not the time to take on a war with North East Ireland and the British Empire as well. He counselled patience and urged his audience not to allow themselves to be rushed into a wrong policy.

IRISH CONSTITUTION.

SATISFACTORY PROGRESS IN NEGOTIATIONS.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 10.

The progress in connection with the negotiations on the Irish Constitution has been made to the extent that six main difficulties which stood in the way of the Conference's success have been surmounted, and a feeling of cautious optimism prevails in Government quarters.

PREMIER PRESIDES OVER MEETING

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 10.

Substantial progress is officially stated to have been made with the Irish negotiations. The preliminary conversation between Mr. Griffith and Mr. Churchill, at the Colonial Office yesterday morning was followed by a two hours' meeting between the British signatories to the Treaty at 10, Downing Street over which the Prime Minister presided. Mr. Lloyd George had motored to London from the country in the morning. Lord Balfour and Lord Fitz Alan were also present. The meeting considered the points raised by legal and technical experts and adjourned till to-day.

IRISH CONVERSATIONS AT DOWNING STREET

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 10.

Mr. Griffith conferred with Mr. Churchill and Mr. Chamberlain, to-day, and subsequently conferred with Mr. Lloyd George and Mr. Churchill at Downing Street for an hour. The conversations were adjourned until Monday.

PROTEST AGANIST GREEK BOMBARDMENT.

BY TURKISH FOREIGN MINISTER.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 9.

A Constantinople message from Angora says that the Foreign Minister, Izzet Pasha has protested to the Allies High Commissioners against the Greek bombardment of Samsun, which lasted three and a half hours and caused several fires and a number of casualties. The coast batteries replied feebly. The Greek ultimatum gave one hour for destruction of all munitions in accordance with Hague stipulations.

LONDON, June 9.

Melbourne.—A cable states that the Minister for Defence announces that under the military retrenchment scheme ninety-five officers, 240 warrant and non-commissioned officers and a hundred men of the permanent forces will have to retire. Compensation allowances compare unfavourably with the averages for the retiring Indian army officers. Colonels are to receive 1,650 sterling, majors 650, captains 500 and subalterns 108. The Minister invites volunteers for retirement.

PROGRESS OF IRISH NEGOTIATIONS.

PREMIER EXPRESSES SATISFACTION.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 11.

The Prime Minister's remark "I am very pleased with the progress that has been made" to journalists at the close of yesterday's conference between the English and Irish representatives has revived the spirits of the people, who so often have been disappointed in their hopes for a settlement. The premier said that there had been a very satisfactory series of talks. He did not anticipate trouble over the constitution, though there were one or two points to be cleared up.

Mr. Griffith, when questioned on the same lines as to the situation, adopted a more cautious tone. "Oh, fairly satisfactory," he said.

A very significant step is that the scope of the conference is being extended by the inclusion of Southern Unionists' representatives. There is a lurking feeling of anxiety, however, as regards the attitude of Mr. De Valera.

In Dublin, there are prospects of a substantial pro-Treaty majority in the elections, as it is anticipated that at least a dozen Independents will be returned, all of whom will displace individuals who are against the treaty.

MULSHI CONFERENCE.

PLEA OF "PUBLIC UTILITY" DERIDED.

JUSTIFICATION OF SATYAGRAHA.

DR. MUNJE'S PRESIDENTIAL ADDRESS

The All Maharashtra Mulshi Conference was held on Sunday at the Muzafarabad Hall, Dr. B. S. Munje presiding. The number of delegates was large in addition to the Mavlas. There were lady delegates, also, present at the Conference.

CHAIRMAN'S SPEECH.

Mr. C. V. Vaidya, the Chairman of the Reception Committee made a lengthy speech. After going into the history of the whole struggle from the very beginning he said the Mavlas—both men and women—were determinel to die for their ancestral lands and houses. The speaker controverted many of the statements made by the Tatas (Mr. Bhabha) and at their instance by the Director of Information. Only a small proportion of the 12 lakhs of citizens of Bombay would directly be benefitted by the scheme; would railway rates be reduced, or the price of mill-made dhoties used by the poor people go down? The scheme would only put greater profits into the already full pockets of capitalists and mill-owners and the lot of the people could not be made happier. The idea of dispossessing the poor Mavla agriculturists for profiting millowners, the railway and tram companies struck the speaker as even worse than the Robin Hod principle of plundering the rich and giving to the poor, for here the poor were plundered for enriching the rich. He protested against the application of the Land Acquisition Act for the benefit of rich concerns and for trampling under foot the right of private property. Unless for serving people such laws should not lightly be used and should be abrogated, as they were likely to be abused. Lands were being acquired even for some private companies under the Act and that was most inequitable. In this case 54 villages would have to be evacuated and nearly 12,000 people would be evicted from their lands. Instead of undertaking such a big schemes the Tatas should have undertaken smaller schemes in which case it would not be necessary to evict these poor people The people of these valleys were so good that there was not a single liquor shop there. About the cant of maintaining law and order at any expense, he said: laws which were against all principles of justice and right and equity and which trampled under foot the very fundamental rights of humanity should be abrogated. All constitutional means had been tried, but they had failed. Their methods of protesting against the laws were not new; they had been tried before by Pym and Hampden and even Mahatma Gandhi. But they must separate law from order, for Government were oppressing them by law. It was the duty of every citizen to resist all bad laws by civil disobedience, and even the Bishop of Madras had said it was the duty of every Indian to disobey the Rowlatt Act.

THE LEGAL ASPECT.

"The right of private defence of property is exactly the same under the old Hindu Law and the law of the British Penal Code. A man has a right of private defence of property whether of himself or of another against mischief (with which we are here concerned) amongst other offences which may be committed by the offender even by an act affecting his own property. Thus the Tata Co. building a dam on its own land so as to inundate the land of the inhabitants of the valleys commits mischief and the inhabitants as also their friends have a right of defending their property and committing any offence short of death or grievous hurt. This right is denied, of course, against a public servant or where there is time enough to complain to the authorities. Therefore in the particular case there is legally no right of private defence of property. But since the authority to whom we have to appeal have themselves sanctioned the mischief we have resolved to resort to Satyagraha as prea hed and advised by Mahatma Gandhi, under the peculiar circumstances of the case. I merely draw your attention to the limits of the right of private defence of property which would have existed if the Government had not come to the aid of the Tata Co. The right again extends to the infliction of such harm as is necessary, but not more, for the purpose of defence and this provision must also be borne in mind. These provisions are particularly to be remembered when it is argued that the friends of the Mavlas have no right to interfere or that many Mawlas having willingly taken compensation the others have no right to continue opposition. So long as there is one landholder in the Mulshi valley who does not accept compensation willingly and who opposes compulsory eviction by Government, the agitators as they are styled in the Director's letter and the landholder have a right to continue Satyagraha and offer opposition. The so-called agitators have a right to assist the Mawlas in defending their property and cannot be accused of having got up an unreal opposition. For you cannot produce a flame without fuel, by mere blowing. There must be a real grievance behind an agitation, especially where it is put up by agriculturists and other people."

COERCION OF MAVLAS.

He denied that the Mavlas were willingly accepting compensation from Tatas; they were frightened into accepting it. Compensation, though liberal, could not at all be accepted, as that would only make the men common labourers. Concluding he said if Government had prestige to maintain, so [illegible] bureaucracy were dogged so also were they.

In proposing that Dr. Munje should take the chair, Dr. G. Deshmukh said they had all come to the Conference because a great and vital principle was involved in the struggle and on the solution of that question depended their future conduct with Government in their struggle for freedom. Theirs was a non-violent struggle and it should be their object to keep the present Government also from violence in keeping law and order. He had no hesitation in saying that they could not have found a better leader to preside over the Conference than Dr. Munje

Mr. B. F. Bharucha seconding, said they must remember that on the proper solution of this question not only the fate of Maharashtra, but also of the whole country depended. He asked them to remember, in their struggle, that their great object was to win Swaraj by non-violent non-co-operation, keeping always in view the ideals placed before the country by Mahatma Gandhi and their Congress.

Dr. Paranjpye, Mr. D. V. Gokhale, Mr. R N. Bapasola and Mr. Nane further supported and the resolution was carried

PRESIDENT'S SPEECH.

Dr. Munje in the course of his speech said a fetish was being made of the desire of encompassing the industrial and mechanical progress of India, or it might be taken as an illustration of the eccentric and unbalanced development of that side. The fundamental condition underlying the western system of civilisation was absolutely wanting in India and any imitation of the westerners in this Department of human activity was nothing short of apish imitation. The speaker then quoted the incident of the Cawnpore mosque and asked the Mavlas to protect their lands and homes with the same grim determination and obduracy. It was wrong for Government to help a private company; if Government had not helped, the matter would have been settled long ago. They could not agree that the project was in the public interests; there were old and famous temples in the land which were likely to disappear.

Continuing he said:

The objection that is raised is that if the struggle is continued, the Indian company composd of Share-holders drawn from all races of India will be ruined and it will thus prove a cause of demolishing the Indian unity which has been built up with such laborious enterprise. I wonder if anybody can see any logic in it. Suppose if a company of pure Maharashtrians were started to-morrow with the object of dealing in foreign cloth, don't you think that it is the sacred duty of every Indian to see that that company is wrecked, but we here do not want to encompass the ruin of the Tata Company even if it may or may not be a purely Indian Company. Here I cannot do better than quote Mahatma Gandhi's appeal to the Tata Company in this matter which is republished in "Young India" of June 1st 1922. It is as follows:—

"My heart goes out to the poor people. I dare say the problem of disease and poverty can be easily solved, and the survivors will live in luxury, if the three crores half-starved men and women. and lakhs of the decrepit humanity were shot and their bodies utilised for manure, or their bones utilised for making knife handles. And yet no one but a lunatic will put up such a suggestion. It the case any weaker when men and women are not to be shot, but compulsorily dispossessed of their valued lands about which sentiment, romance, and all that makes life worth living have grown up? I suggest to the custodians of the great name of Tatas that they would more truly advance India's interest if they will defer to the wishes of their week and helpless countrymen."

SATYAGRAHA ETHICS.

As regards the objection raised that the Mulshi Satyagraha is not identical with the Congress movement of non-violent non-cooperation, in that the leaders of Mulshi Satyagraha have planned active interference with Tata Company's work on the Mulshi dam and have encouraged filling up of pits dug out by the Tata Labourers and removal of Railway lines near about the field of work of the Tata Company so as to cause hindrance to the Company in bringing up their men on the spot. It is fortunate that the Satyagrahis have not been charged by our critics with causing personal violence to any of the Tata Company's men in spite of serious and unbearable provocation. Mere words would be but a beggarly description if I were to narrate the inhuman brutalities committed on the poor innocent mavala ladies by the greedy hirelings of the Company. The essence of the Congress movement of non-violent non-cooperation is to abstain from causing any personal violence inspired by any malice or hatred in respect of the opponent. This, it is admitted on all hands has been strictly and scrupulously observed by the Mulshi Satyagrahyees. But when the meaning of non-violence is extended to include even abstainance from causing any injury to property which is immediately concerned in the struggle, then I wonder if those who put the interpretation are really right in doing so, if they are not intentionally indulging in misrepresentation to discredit Mulshi Satyagraha. What can be said of the mass

TRAMWAY FARES.

PROPOSAL OF INCREMENT.

BOMBAY CITIZENS' PROTEST.

Under the joint auspices of the Parsi Rajkeya Sabha and the Indian Passengers' Relief Association, a public meeting of the citizens of Bombay was held on Saturday evening at the hall of the Marwadi Vidyalaya with a view to protest against the proposed increase in Tram fares, when Mr. L. R. Tairsee presided.

CHAIRMAN'S SPEECH.

The chairman explaining the object of the meeting said that after the termination of the war schemes after schemes had come into existence. There was the development scheme against which they raised some time back their emphatic protest. The Tramway Company also had thought it desirable to enhance the tram fares. He did not understand why the Tramway Company, notwithstanding its big capital, propose to adopt a stern attitude towards the poor and middle class passengers. They had got their nationalist party in the Municipal Corporation which, he hoped, would fight out this thorny and important question. He asked the Tramway Company to follow the policy now adopted by the Madras Tramway Company. He called upon Mr. B. F. Bharucha to move the first resolution.

FIRST RESOLUTION.

"This public meeting of the people of Bombay strongly protests against the proposed increase in Tram Fares and requests the President and members of the Municipal Corporation to withhold their sanction to the enhancement of rates on existing lines, which if permitted will entail great hardship on the poor middle-class people of Bombay, who form the bulk of the travelling public by Tramway."

In moving the above resolution Mr. Bharucha said that the Tramway Company, their shareholders, their friends and admirers had been dinning into their ears that since the railway fares, the Victoria and the Taxi fares had been increased why should not the Tramway Company enhance its fares. They knew very well that the Bombay public had no control over the Railways, and consequently if the Railway Company increased their fares, that was no reason for the Tramway Company to increase their fares. Further they had no control over the Taxi and the Victoria fares since they were solely controlled by the Police. Tram service was taken advantage of by the poor middle class people and, therefore, the proposed increase would be a burden to them. It was for the Bombay Municipal Corporation to decide upon that question. It was, further, contended by the Tramway Company that in every department there was an increase in expenditure. When the Company made huge profits did it ever think of giving corresponding facilities to poor passengers? They were asked to pay half an anna more in addition to the present tram fares. As regards children, they would be charged one anna each. It was on account of such increased Tram fares that they had gathered there to lodge their protest. The speaker together with other gentlemen had an interview with one of the Tramway Officials and pressed for retrenchment in their expenses. They also suggested a plan which was being adopted by the Calcutta Tramway Company. Those were some of the ways in which the Tramway Company might think of retrenchment.

In seconding the resolution Mr. J. G. Nensey said that that was the second occasion on which they had held the protest meeting. On the first occasion when the tram passengers had had to wait for hours for trams, a protest meeting was held at Chowpaty at which Mr. B. G. Horniman presided. As a result of their protest the Company allowed the passengers to stand at the rear portion of the cars when they were full of passengers. Now they were told that the same Company was going to increase the tram fares. He hoped the Bombay Municipal Corporation would not allow the Company to increase the fares, for that step would be a sort of hardship to poor and middle class passengers.

The resolution being put to the vote was declared carried.

SECOND RESOLUTION.

"That this meeting authorises its Chairman to forward the above Resolution to the President of the Corporation."

In moving the above resolution Mr. L. Roy Sampat said the proposed step of the Tramway Company was, to his mind, faulty. The Company knew full well that in view of the ever-increasing number of passengers, it would be desirable to lessen it by increasing the tram fares so that the trams might not get crowded. At the present moment the Bombay public was put to great inconvenience and trouble by the Tramway Company and it would be an additional burden on the poor and middle class people if the fares were increased. On account of the increase in Tram fares the people would desert tram service. It was on account of the monopoly now enjoyed by the Tramway Company in this City that it was going to increase the tram fares against which they lodged their emphatic protest. (Cheers).

After the resolution had been seconded it was put to the vote and declared carried.

THIRD RESOLUTION.

"That this meeting appoints a committee of the following gentlemen with powers to add to their number with a view to deal with the matter with the Municipal authorities:—

Messrs. L. R. Tairsee, F. Ginwalla, S. H. Jhabwalla, L. Roy Sampat, Masadia, B. F. Bharucha, J. G. Nensy, B. Anandrao, P. R. Lele and V. G. Dalvi."

Mr. F. Ginwalla said the Company had written a letter to the Municipal Commissioner informing him of the increased tram fares and to place it before the Municipal Corporation. With a view to enquire whether the Tramway Company was justified in increasing their fares they had now appointed a Committee to deal with that important question. What they wanted to know was why the Tramway Company had felt it a necessity to increase the fares. He asked the Company to stop the leakage that was now going on on account of the negligence of the tram conductors in not exacting the fares from the passengers.

Mr. S. H. Jahbwalla in seconding the resolution said that they should ask the Corporation to form a Committee to investigate into the present condition of the tramway management and to let their committee know its results.

The resolution was declared carried.

A vote of thanks to the chair proposed by Mr. B. F. Bharucha terminated the proceedings.

COLLISION ON HOWRAH-AMTA RAILWAY.

MAGISTERIAL INQUIRY FINDING

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

CALCUTTA, June 9.

The magisterial enquiry into the collision which occurred on Howrah-Amta Light Railway on the night of 27th May between 10 Down and 39 Up Passenger trains, which was presided over by M. R. C. W. Gurner; I. C. S. District Maistrate of Howrah, has just been concluded. The Magistrate submitted a lengthy finding in the course of which he observed that the accident occurred through misunderstanding between the stationmasters at Salap and Kadamtala in the absence of telegraphic communication as to where the up and down trains which were both running late should pass. The contributory fact was that a mistaken idea had got about that the up train in question would not be running on the night. The speed of the trains was not excessive and the drivers behaved pluckily in sticking to the engines. The fireman undoubtedly lost his life through jumping form the engine which resulted in his being pinned down by a carrige. No injuries to passengers requiring hospital treatment seemed to have been caused, and the number of those slightly injured did not exceed fifteen.

(ASSOCIATED PRESS.)

KARACHI, June 9.

"Money or your life" were the words with which a bold highway-man with a revolver held up two milk vendors mounted on camels who were returning to their village after delivering milk to Karachi. Very much frightened, they emptied out all the money they had, amounting to six rupees. The bandit was infuriated at the small amount and he shot at the men, wounding both. One was badly bruised in the face and the other man's arm would have to be amputated. It is reported the robber made good his escape. The scene was 5 miles from Karachi on the Malir Road at a lonely spot, where a similar incident happened last year and the robbers were captured and sentenced to transportation.

civil disobedience of Bardoli for non-payment of taxes, if it is not in a sense causing injury to the Government. In the same way cannot the insistence upon pure swadeshi be misrepresented to mean causing injury to the Lancashire manufacturers? To try to lower the prestige of the Government and government institutions is nothing less than moral injury to it. In brief the point that should be really noted is whether the Mulshi Satyagrahyees who have caused some injury to the Tata works are causing injury for the mere pleasure of it or is not the demolition of the dam in a sense merely that kind of injury which Mahatmaji has been speaking of in saying that if he cannot mend this system of government he will not scruple to end it. It is not causing an injury to the system of government that is existing in India? Can any one of us have the face to charge Mahatmaji with even a desire to cause injury to his opponents? If anybody encroaches upon my field and digs a pit and if I go and fill it up can I be said to be causing an injury to the poacher? Even Mahatmaji has not yet tabooed absolutely the exercise of the right of self-defence of person and property. The Satyagrahyees have found that they cannot achieve their object without actual though non-violent interference with the working of the Tata Company, just as the Congress has found in regard to government, and that is enough justification for the Satyagrahyees. So far as I can analyse their motive and action I find no moral turpitude in it.

NO WEAKING OF CONGRESS WORK.

Now as regards the objection that the constructive programme of the Congress will be neglected. I feel from my past experience that Maharashtra will fully prove its capability of carrying on the struggle to the extent it may decide upon and yet it shall not lag behind other provinces in the discharge of the Congress duties. There are instances of provinces to-day in India where thousands of youths with most of their leaders have gone to jail to vindicate the cause of the Congress and yet I have not heard a whisper being raised about their not being in a position of carrying out their quota of the constructive programme. However should there be still some deficiency left I hope our sister provinces will not grudge to do a little extra work to compensate for our little deficiency. For after all this Mulshi Satyagraha is in its wider sense a kind of Congress work itself with higher potentiality as regards its consequences and its effect upon the nation than the bald constructive programme of Congress to-day.

RESOLUTIONS.

When the Conference met again in the evening, the following resolutions were passed:—

The first resolution congratulated the Mavlas on the non-violent and peaceful Satyagraha begun by them on the 16th April 1921, and also the delegates to the Conference from all Maharashtra; the Conference also congratulated the Satyagrahis on their non-violence in face of persecutions from the servants of the Company and Government and requested them to continue that non-violence in the future.

The second resolution committed the Conference to continue the Satyagraha now in force as, if the dam were built 54 villages would be submerged and the homes and lands of ten thousand Mavlas would disappear for ever under water; vatans and vested interests would vanish; two important temples would be submerged; the present barrage was only the beginning of further exploitation of the country; the disappearance of these fertile lands would make Maharashtra more and more dependent for its food stuffs. It would be suicidal for them to immerse a land which had produced such a heroic people as the Mavlas. The Conference asked that those Mavlas who had either willingly or unwillingly received compensation should be freed from their obligations and should be helped in their endeavour to preserve their ancestral lands.

WAYS AND MEANS.

The third resolution defined the means and ways of the Satyagraha to be practised. They were: the company's men should be prevented from doing their work in a non-violent manner; the trench already cut should be filled with stones and earth; the efforts should be made not to find labourers for the Company; abstinence from causing hurt to Tata's or Government men should be continued and a committee should be appointed for the purpose of determining these and other means for carrying their objects to a successful conclusion.

The fourth resolution sett the limits to the Satyagraha; that is to say the Satyagraha was to continue for three years or until three lakhs were spent or until three thousand men were sent to jail. After that a new conference was to determine upon fresh ways and means.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED.

The fifth resolution appointed the following committee, consisting of one representative from each province, for the purpose of supervising the Satyagraha, namely Mr. C. V. Vaidya, Dr. Nanasaheb Deshamukh, Mr. Madhavrao Aney and Dr. B. S. Munje and the Committee was asked to prosecute their campaign vigorously in their provinces.

The sixth resolution stated that after sending representatives to Mulshi Petha the Satyagraha Mandal and other associations were convinced that great violence had been used against the Satyagrahis; and that the following facts had been fully proved: (1) That many Satyagrahis had been beaten until they had fainted; (2) That Mavla women had been treated very indecently; (3) and that respected Satyagraha leaders had been foully abused.

The Conference sat till a late hour.

MULSHI PETHA AND MAHARASTRA.

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—The Director of Information says in his communique the Satyagrahis tried to break through this ring to get at the workmen and there was a scuffle, in which no one was hurt except one of the Company's coolies, who received a cut over the eye from a stone. This is the only casuality that has been sustained by either party for the past fortnight.

The Magistrate says in one of his judgments—'During the trial of this case I have noticed that the Company's men in trying to remove the obstruction or criminal trespass exceeded limits, laid down by provisions of law, regarding private defence of property and inflicted not only more harm than was necessary for the purpose of defence but continued doing so even after the apprehension of danger had ceased and the offence was completed. The evidence of the Police Inspector showed that even after the atmosphere was calm and the Satyagrahis had quietly given their names, they were regularly beaten by Company's workers. This witness had seen marks of sticks on the back and leg of accused No. 10 which were not there before the Company's men arrived on the scene. The accused also showed the marks to me and the Inspector in the Court yesterday and the latter assured me they were the same shown him on that day. They were clearly stick-marks and were vivid even now i.e. on the third day."

A comparison of the above given extracts will convince the public of the reality of the atrocities perpetrated by the Company's labourers and at the same time shed light on the ways and means adopted by the Director of Information to damn the Satyagrah movement. I hope Mr. B. F. Bharucha who has expressed doubts about the atrocities in the absence of positive proof will be able to see things as they actually happened.—Yours, etc.

II

TO THE EDITOR OF "THE CHRONICLE."

Sir,—One of the fundamental questions which arise in connection with the Mulshi Satyagraha movement is whether agricultural serfdom should be considered more acceptable than industrial wage slavery, if we have to choose betwen the two evils. It is a notorious fact that about 75 per cent. of the lands in the Mulshi valley have become properties of Sowcars, who are naturally absentee landlords. No one would have the hardihood to contend that these Sowcars have any other than pecuniary interests in the lands in question and that they can have any grievance if they get their due compensation for the lands acquired by the Tata Company. The Sowcars cannot lay any hereditary claims, nor can they profess any sentimental attachment to the lands owned by them, they having never laboured in them personally and the earth in the valley having never been mixed up with the ashes of their forefathers. Their ownership of land is a mere profitable investment of their money. These Sowcars were the first to incite the Mavlas to Satyagraha, but as soon as they saw that the revised scale of compensation adopted by the Company was a fair and alluring one they deserted the poor Mavlas and all of them, almost without an exception, handed over their lands to the Company in return for fair amounts of money. Thus the bulk of the lands has been acquired by the Company. The Sowcars had requisitioned the help of some outsiders, representing that the poor Mavlas were being deprived of their lands and the compensation that was being offered by the Company was quite inadequate. This was before the revised scale of compensation came into force. But when they found that the compensation offered was handsome they did not care to consult the outsiders whose help they had sought in the name of the Mavlas. In the meantime the movement had taken a definitely new turn in that the cry of their compensation was replaced by the warory "No surrender of land." The Poona District Conference had discussed the question of Mulshi lands, but then it was not contended by anybody that lands in the said valley should not be surrendered under any circumstances, the demand being only for a fair compensation. But the movement originally started for fair compensation developed into one for defeating the Company's project.

Now one of the chief arguments of the champions of the Satyagraha movement is that such industrial schemes lead to the expropriation of the peasants and reduces them to the condition of industrial wage-slaves, and in support of this the condition of millhands in Bombay is pointed out. No one would ever deny that modern industrialism has its dark side, and the evils of capitalism are patent in the world of industries. But that is not enough to condemn the Mulshi project in a wholesale manner. The facts of the particular case must be carefully considered before the public support is extended to the Satyagraha movement in the Mulshi Valley. Let us for the present lay aside the questions, whether the project can be called one of public utility, whether the Government is justified in backing a Joint Stock Company in its commercial enterprise, whether the land Acquisition Act is an equitable one, whether the old simple life should be allowed to be contaminated with the complicated evils of modern civilisation and such other questions, and confine ourselves only to the consideration of the question whether the condition of the Mavlas would be so much worse were the project carried out, that the defeat of the Company's scheme should be made national cause.

Absentee landlords cannot refuse to part with their lands if they get adequate compensation and in case they refuse others have no reason to support them. Their cause cannot be made a national cause, they being able to defend themselves. They may, if they like, contend that they should be allowed to bargain with the company and that the Government should not interfere with the bargain through the Land Acquisition Act. But all the same, it would be absurd to allow their cause to assume national proportion. Only those who till the soil and own it too can ask for lands elsewhere in exchange for their lands that would be acquired by the Company. The latter as you, sir, have pointed out, were willing to give lands in exchange to such landholders. Thus the peasant proprietors in Mulshi had no reason to fear that they would be reduced to industrial wage slavery if they parted with their lands. The sentimental attachment to land in these classes must be frankly admitted, but the contention that they would be made landless and would have ultimately to go to swell the ranks of day labourers holds no water.

As regards those who are mere tenants, we have to consider whether their condition would be much worse if they became industrial labourers instead of agricultural tenants. Three-fourths of the Mavlas have become mere tenants, though formerly they were owners of the same lands. These tenants are heavily indebted to their landlords and they have to pass their days in semi-starvation. The ways of the Sowcars are too well-known to require any dilation. Once in the clutches of these wily money-lenders it is nearly impossible for the poor victims to regain their economic independence. The Mavlas have to remain in half-starved, half-naked condition, toiling from year's end to year's end in desperate efforts to pay off the landlords' debts and with all the toils of the poor fellows their indebtedness wins the race. In addition to his extreme poverty the poor Mavla tenant has to be constantly in terror of his landlord who may turn him out any moment from the land of his ancestors. His indebtedness has deprived him of his independence and sense of self-respect too. Would his condition be worse if he becomes an industrial labourer? Certainly not. On the other hand he would get higher wages, might be able to throw off the yoke of the Sowcar and regain some of his former independence.

May I ask what the gentlemen who are now crying themselves hoarse over the cause of the Mavlas were doing when the latter were being mercilessly fleeced and deprived of their ancestral lands by the Brahmin and Gujar money-lenders? Have these champions of the Mavas done anything to stop their economic degradation, to remove their serfdom, to elevate their condition? Were they not the same "Shivaji's Mavlas" when they were being ground down by the Swadeshi Shylocks? I can appreciate the unsophicated simple village life, but what is the use of singing its beauties when the canker of indebtedness and economic helplessness has eaten into its vital? The agricultural tenants in the Taluka of Pen are putting up a brave fight against the tyranny of their landlords who are mostly Brahmins, but are they reciving any help from the Poona Nationalists and their compatriots in the Kolaba District? On the other hand the so-called non-co-operators of Poona under the guise of bringing about a compromise are advising the landlords to have recourse to the Government Courts in order to teach a severe lesson to the tenants who are, in their opinion, behaving impudently in that they are practising Satyagraha to secure justice at the hands of their masters. A hue and cry is being raised by the Deccan Nationalists against the Satyashodhaks who are trying to free themselves from the religious, social and economic tyranny of the so-called higher castes and the so-called non-co-operators in Maharashtra have no scruples to invoke the aid of Government officials in crushing this liberal movement.

No one who knows the doctrines and the ways of the Deccan Nationalists can believe for a moment that they are espousing the cause of the Mavlas without any ulterior motives, the worst of which is the secret design to expose the futility of Mahatma Gandhi's doctrine of non-violence by giving it a trial in Mulshi. Is it fair to make the Mavlas a cat's paws? Is it fair to Mahatmaji to try to prove him a false prophet without following his advice in its true spirit when making an experiment in Satyagraha? Destruction of property means violence and if on account of such violence the Movement fails it will be no fault of Mahatmaji's.—Yours, etc.,

REPARATIONS QUESTION

DECISION OF BANKERS' COMMITTEE

DISTURBING SITUATION CREATED

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 10.

The decision of the Bankers' Committee, following on French opposition to consent to reduction of reparations, has created a disturbing situation. The German default is now regarded as probable, though Government may continue monthly payments of fifty million gold Marks pending the reassembly of the Bankers' Committee. The latter's proposed terms for loan are stated to have included halving of indemnities with priority for lenders in respect of customs, etc. Germany would receive half of the loan and indemnity would be suspended for three years. The French price for agreement to foregoing was the cancellation of France's war debts to America and Britain, and further that Britain should abandon her share of indemnity on the ground that she benefited by the destruction of Germany's power and by her acquisition of German colonies.

The French papers state that the Bankers' Committee have finally considered two schemes. First scheme embraced a large comprehensive loan likely to settle the reparations' question and the second was for a limited loan. The first proposal would necessitate reduction of indemnity and cancellation of inter-Allied debts. Adjournment for three months instead of sine die is interpreted as giving France and America the last chance in the direction of accommodation.

COMMITTEE'S CONCLUSIONS.

(REUTER'S TELEGRAM.)

LONDON, June 10.

Paris.—The Committee of Bankers' report to the Reparations Commission was delivered this afternoon. It states that as Germany's chief creditor does not desire new limitations upon Germany's obligations it is useless at present to continue their enquiry. With regret, therefore, the Committee has come to conclusion that it could not recommend the feasibility of an external loan to Germany, because it ought not to recommend a loan for which it could not confidently anticipate successful issue in the respective markets

A later message says the Committee in the course of its conclusions is convinced that if the conditions for Germany's reconstruction were realised it would be possible to float large loans in the principal markets of the World. Conditions for this purpose have never been more favourable since the war. The Committee dwells on the immense help which would be rendered to the economic revival of the world if Germany's debt to the Allies was gradually convertible into one to private investors. It believes that the resumption of normal exchange negotiations and the stabilisation of exchanges is impossible unless the reparations' solution is found and proceeds to urge the danger of collapse of German credit unless the situation is relieved. The conclusions are signed by all the members except Sergent, of France, who has issued a statement that he is unable to contemplate any diminution of Frances right under the Treaty of Versailles.

PLIGHT OF SOUTH AFRICAN INDIANS.

NATAL'S PROPOSED FREE ORDINANCES.

MR. POLAK URGES INTERVENTION BY GOVT. OF INDIA.

(Associated Press.)

LAHORE, June 9.

Mr. Henry S. L. Polak who arrived here yesterday from Simla gave a long interview to a representative of the Associated Press this morning on the position of Indians in South Africa. Mr. Polak said:—

"Your association published a few days ago a telegram from Durban referring to certain free ordinances passed by the Natal Provincial Council and which aimed at the very life of the Indian community residing in that part of South Africa. I have since then received an urgent telegram from the Natal Indian Congress stating that a deputation is now waiting upon the Governor-General in Cape Town to protest against the passing of this legislation and it has been referred to the Department of the Interior. The telegram adds that immediate intervention by the Government of India is imperative. Last year the provincial Council passed two ordinances known respectively as Rural and Local Dealers Licensing Ordinance and Local Township Ordinance. To these to be added a third Ordinance enabling the Corporation of Durban to pursue a policy of racial segregation and to insert in pursuance of that policy a clause in the titles of Corporation lands sold at public auction or otherwise, forbidding an Indian to become an owner or transferee of a land in question or to reside on or to occupy it. I believe that this measure too has passed and is now awaiting sanction. This ordinance is the result of a recent incident at an auction sale of Corporation lands in Durban, when Indians bid but under pressure from European would-be purchasers the auctioneer refused to take Indians' bids and to proceed with the sale. A most important constitutional question has risen by reason of this legislation."

GOVERNMENT OF INDIA TO TAKE THE LEAD.

Continuing Mr. Polak said: "In my opinion it is of the most urgent importance that the Governor-General in Council should be requested to reserve further consideration of these ordinances pending a reference to the Attorney-general of Great Britain on this point as to their merits. There can be no doubt that the ordinances will, if sanctioned, deal a death blow to the South African population. It has been my experience that reactionary legislation affecting Indians in one province of the Union is sooner or later extended and applied throughout the whole Union. I appeal to Indians at this critical juncture in the affairs of Indians in South Africa, to stand solidly behind the Government of India, in the extraordinary difficult task of approaching the Union Government with a view to ward off this fatal blow against the welfare and the very existence of the South African Indian population. If this legislation is sanctioned a disaster of the first magnitude will occur."

INTERVIEWS WITH SONS.

REFUSED TO PT. MALAVIYA AND NEHRUJI.

(Associated Press.)

LUCKNOW, June 11.

It is reported that Pandit Motilal Nehru, Pandit Madan Mohan Malaviya and Mrs. Gandhi went to the Lucknow Central Jail this morning. Pandit Malaviya had asked permission to see his son and nephew whom Panditji had not seen since their imprisonment five months ago. The Superintendent of the Jail first refused permission on the ground, that they had a interview with some friends two days ago, but later expressed his willingness to allow Panditji to see the young men on condition that he would not talk to them; for even that, Panditji was informed, would be violation of jail rules. Panditji replied that he would not help in any violation of jail rules and that he would wait to see young men when they would be free to talk to each other.

The Superintendent also refused permission to Pandit Motilal Nehru to see his son Jewharilal on the ground that Pandit Motilal was an ex-prisoner and also because an interview was not due. Both Pandit Motilal and Pandit Malaviya pointed out that reasonable interpretation should be put on the rules and that it could not have been meant to prevent an interview between father and son and mother and son. But it was to no purpose.

Mrs. Gandhi was allowed to see her son Devadas on condition that she would not talk much to him because Devadas also had an interview with some friends a few days earlier.

LUCKNOW DISTRICT POLITICAL CONFERENCE.

Pandit Motilal Nehru left to-night for Allahabad. Prior to his departure he presided over the Lucknow District Political Conference and addressed a gathering of about ten thousand people including a number of ladies. Pandit Malaviya also addressed the Conference in an impassioned and feeling speech. Further resolutions were passed congratulating the tenants on their firmness and non-violence in face of oppression, urging the non-cooperators to stand for elections in Municipalities, District Boards and exhorting them to put forth greater efforts in cause of temperance.

A tenant from Malleabad spoke of his woes. For becoming a member of the Congress Committee, he said, he was ill-treated, his property looted by employees of Zemindars and the police.

Mr. WAGH is now engaged in making the statues of LOKMANYA TILAK for the Poona Municipality and Bombay City.

PUNDIT MADAN MOHAN MALAVIYA writes :—

I have twice visited Mr. Wagh's Studio. It has given me much pleasure to see the several excellent statues and busts which Mr. Wagh has made. I particularly admire the extremely good likeness which he has reproduced in the statue of the late Lokmanya Tilak and in the bust of Lord Hardinge. I consider either of these is sufficient to establish the reputation of Mr. Wagh as a sculptor of high skill. I wish Mr. Wagh every success in his profession.—29th March, 1922.

SERVICES DURING MALABAR REBELLION.

MADRAS GOVT.'S APPRECIATION.

(Associated Press.)
MADRAS, June 10.

A Government Order says:—With the departure of 1/39th Royal Garhwal Rifles on 5th June, last of the extra troops called in to deal with Mapilla Rebellion are quitting Malabar. Their place is being taken by 45th Sikhs whose Headquarters will be at Cannanore and who together with detachments of Suffolk Regiment and Malabar Special Police will, for the present, from the garrison on the West Coast. The Governor-in-Council wishes to take this opportunity in saying farewell to the officers and men of 1/39th Royal Garhwal Rifles to express his great appreciation of services rendered by them and by all military units towards suppression of rebellion. Madras Government most gratefully acknowledge the ready spirit of co-operation and keen promptitude with which the General Officer Commanding, Madras District and the troops under his mommand from first to last faced the most difficult and trying situation. The Governor-in-Council most deeply regrets the loss of gallant lives that rebellion has entailed and desires that thanks of Madras Government should be conveyed to the officers and the men of all units for the assistance rendered throughout, the rebellion. The Governor-in-Council also most gladly acknowledges the civil officers' services and devotion to duty. Thanks of Government are specially due to Mr. R. H. Hitchcock who has been the District Superintendent of Police, South Malabar, during the rebellion. This officer's services have been invaluable and his unceasing labours and untiring activity in combating rebellion entitle him to a very special mood or praise.

DISTRESS IN MALABAR.

ARYA SAMAJ RELIEF CENTRES APPEAL FOR FUNDS,

Mr. Mehta Sawanmal Datta, Arya Samaj Relief Centre, Calicut, writes under date June 10:—

Acute is the distress among the Hindus in the interior. All invariably live on jack fruits and mangoes the season of which is almost over. Families having ten members each, do not cook even one seer of rice daily and take food in tin plates. No one is employed. A larger measure of relief is imperative. The Central Relief Committee relieves only a few Hindus. Though the condition of Moplahs is comparatively better, the Arya Samaj relief continues. More funds are necessary.

Many converts are reconverted, but a large number still awaits reconversion. The social recognition of the reconverted is extremely difficult. Social problems require immediate attention. Public opinion is to be organised immediately. More money is required for everything.

KATHIAWAR NOTES.

LIMBDI VOLUNTEER CORPS,

(From our Correspondent.)
LIMBDI, June 6.

A couple of years ago, a Council of State was inaugurated in Limbdi. But after its inauguration, no sitting ever took place. Of late, the bureaucracy seems to be active about this and one should not be surprised, if as a result of the Committee several meetings, sitting of this Council is held before this Hindu year ends i.e., before this Diwali approaches.

For the last fortnight or so, no pure handspun and handwoven khaddar is available at many big places, like Wadhwan, Limbdi. Is this result of Kathiawad khadi Karyalaya's winding up their business and sending their stock away to Ahmedabad?

LIMBDI VOLUNTEER CORPS.

A Limbdi Volunteer Corps has been started with a view to make 'Pacca Bandobast' at public meetings, at the Railway Station, etc. When Mrs. Kasturbai Gandhi passed by Limbdi Station, the Volunteers were of great help. Volunteers are doing creditable work in connection with khaddar propaganda among the masses and enrolments for the Congress Memberships. With the help of these new Volunteers, about 50 names are enlisted as members of the Reception Committee of the 2nd Political Conference to be held at Wadhwan Camp.

FATE OF SAMALDAS COLLEGE.

Strong rumours are afloat, that the Samaldas College at Bhavnagar, which is an Arts College, affiliated to the Bombay University, is being converted into a Second Grade College, teaching only up to the Intermediate. It is also rumoured, Mr. Sanjana, the Principal, will be shortly and be appointed as an officer on the Bhavnagar Railway. An Arts College in a first class State is a necessity and it is to be regretted if the rumours turn out to be a fact.

CAUSE OF ACCIDENT TO P. AND O. "NAGOYA."

(Associated Press.)
MADRAS, June 9.

Further particulars regarding the accident to P. and O. "Nagoya" which broke her foremast while a case weighing twenty-five tons and containing costly engine for the Madras Electric Supply Corporation was being unloaded, show that the ships foremast being unable to withstand the weight, gave way with the result that the case fell into the water. The Port Trust authorities engaged a number of divers who succeeded in recovering the case. The cost of the engine, it is stated, is about five lakhs.

HISTORICAL RESEARCH.

We are indebted to the Oxford University Press for reprinting and publishing in pamphlet form an illuminating contribution to the February number of the Allahabad "Journal of Indian History" on the subject of "Historical Manuscripts in Indian Libraries" by the staff of the History Department of the Allahabad University. The pamphlet contains an elaborate and exhaustive report of that staff on the result of their search for old manuscripts and books in the different private and public libraries of Northern and Southern India. The compilers of the report note that the most precious of our National collections are kept mostly in a confused and disorganised condition. It is gratifying to note, however, that the old time contempt which used to pursue any attempts at historical research in India is now giving place to courtesy and tolerance on the part of the owners of these precious libraries.

The Department of Modern Indian History in the Allahabad University appears to have an enthusiastic and indefatigable staff. It was no easy task to have travelled over the different parts of India, to overcome the distrust and prejudice of jealous guardians of old treasurers and to command by their personal effort and unbounded enthusiasm the hearty co-operation and support of the princes, noblemen and scholars who possessed these rich historical treasurers of Hindostan. The Indian public ought to be grateful to this enthusiastic and noble band of National workers. Dr. Shafaat Ahmad Khan's report is specially interesting for it covers not merely research for historical manuscripts but also paintings of historical interest. In Lala Sri Ram's unique institution at Delhi, the Doctor came across not merely historical and poetical works but a rich collection of historical paintings and fine specimens of calligraphy. We feel a glow of pride on being told that the artistically bound old copies of the Qoran were found to be written in an exquisitely beautiful hand on an amazingly superior paper. The learned Doctor further gives a choice list of only a few of the numerous interesting paintings found there and this list itself is enough to make the mouth of an Indian Antiquarian water! Then again there is Pandit Ram Prasad who collected a choice list of fine materials for historical research from the library of H. H. the Maharaja of Alwar and from the two fine libraries at Hyderabad (Deccan) and from the library of the Asiatic Society of Bengal at Calcutta including the Government collection of manuscripts there. The Pundit carried his researches also into the Imperial Library and into the St. Xavier College Library at Calcutta and in the libraries of H. H. the Nawab of Rampur. Professor Beni Prasad's report covers the Aligarh, Kashi Nagari and the Ramnagar Libraries. His greatest enterprise is the examination of the famous Chhatarpur Library in the remote and unfrequented wilds of Bundelkhand. This last is of unique interest to Hindus—for the Hindi-Sanscrit collection here deals with all Hindu topics of interest—religion, philosophy, ethics, medicine, astronomy poetry prosody and history, and is exceptionally rich in religious lore, forming one of the finest collections of Vaishnavite literature in North India. Finally Mr. Gurty Venkatrao's researches in the Madras libraries concludes the report which is extremely interesting and instructive.

While concluding this appreciative notice of the praiseworthy attempt of the History Department of the Allahabad University, we woud like to invite the attention of these scholars to other libraries in the possession of the surviving links of ancient but now unrecognised royal families like those at Tanjore; we learn there are fine collections of manuscripts and paintings in Tanjore Palace in the possession of the members of the princely family there as also with some Pandits at Kumbakonam while the collection at Madura is well known. Then there are the libraries of the Matadhipaties as at Sringeri, Udipi (in South Canara), and of the Jain High Priests of Mudabidri (also in S. Canara). The different Mutts founded by Sri Adi Shankaracharya all over India should also contain precious subjects for historic research.

We congratulate the Allahabad University staff of the History Department on their unique efforts and wish them and their journal every success.

THE NEW INDUSTRIAL ORDER

INCENTIVES IN THE NEW INDUSTRIAL ORDER, J. A. Hobson, L. Parsons, London, 4sh. 6d.

Backward nations have the advantage, the freedom and the opportunity which could be made to compensate them however slightly, for the many ills natural to their position. The compensation seems at first negligible if not imperceptible. But, under the circumstances, it is worth investigating its potentialities and exploiting them. The nations have the advantage as well as the opportunity of benefiting by the mistakes committed by the more advanced nations. Their desire for advancement is naturally keener than that of those already well advanced. They should therefore be equally keen about new methods of investigation and application, new ideas and experiments. But the glamour of the advanced countries combined with their own diffidence and the impatience to overtake the former almost invariably reduces the backward nations to the position of imitators servilely copying other countries besides India, and ignoring the thoughtless and wasteful methods of the more fortunate nations. This repetition, one might call it perpetuation, of blunders is apparent everywhere. We in this country are not absolutely free from the taint. It can be traced without much difficulty in the class which interprets the salvation of this country in terms of industry, industry as it is understood in the west. "Captains" of industry and their kinsmen the pseudo-economists still keep up the pretense of mistaking their prosperity for that of the nation. The claims of labour are still regarded as "concessions." The rights of the consumer simply do not exist. But these schemes of industry where all the rights and the profits invariably appear on the side of the "captains" and all the obligations on the side of labour and the consumer is beginning to be broken up. The disintegration is, it is true, more apparent in the west. But its effects are not imperceptible even here. Mr. Hobson summarises the central facts of the new situation. He states that (1) free competition is no longer existent in some of our fundamental industries and cannot be restored; (2) that in these industries capitalist combination, often accompanied by labour combination, has brought intolerable dangers to other industries and to the consuming public; (3) that public control of these monopolies or quasi-monopolies is recognised as necessary; (4) that reasonable distrust of central bureaucratic management demands that any public ownership or control be accompanied by representative self-government adjusted to the character of the several industries thus "nationalised". This might be considered as a fairly reliable summary of the main factors which emerge out of the present unrest and conflict of opinion. Mr. Hobson rightly considers that the feasibility of the New Order everywhere turns upon certain crucial matters of incentive. He examines the usual doubts and the difficulties and suggests remedies that would not only retain the old incentives but stimulate them. He therefore considers the New Order practicable and at least worth an impartial trial. Those who are at present occupied in exploring new avenues of industrial, economic and social endeavour would do well to study unbiased the suggestions contained in this book. The workers in this country have the opportunity. They should benefit by it. They should not allow interested apologists of the status quo to deceive them. The country needs the services of unbiased and independent thinkers. They would surely be greatly helped by this book.

JOINT STOCK ENTERPRISE IN INDIA.

The Review of the Joint tock Companies in India, for 1919-20, was compiled and dated by the Officiating Director of Statistics, on the 4th of October, 1921, and was issued for publication only a few weeks ago. The document is entirely absolute, and its publication two years behind time offends more than is usual with similar publications of the Indian Government. Even the paucity of reflections does not save its express or implied conclusions from being utterly worthless. The Review, for example while describing and comparing the results of the wild activity in company promotion in 1919-20 with the preceding year, is necessarily silent on the question of the severe depression which has like ruthless nemasis overtaken and shaken our industrialist or entregreneur. The satisfies of new formation and their capital, or authorised or paid up, are no guide to the actual position of industrial enterprise in India.

We may note, however, the following figures for what they are worth. Of the 8887 companies incorporated in India under the Indian companies laws upto the end of 1919-20, only 3668 were working at the end of 1919-20 The total capital invested in the companies was Rs. 99.11 crores in 1917-18 and rose to 123-21 crores two years later. But this figure relates only to capital actually paid up, the nominal or authorised capital being 284-18 crores in 1917-18 and 548.22 crores in 1919-20. Of the total number of companies Bengal had 47 per cent with paid up capital of 43 per cent. of the aggregate, and Bombay had nearly 20 per cent. with the paid up capital amounting to 35 per cent. of the aggregate. The average capital per company is the largest in Bombay, being Rs. 591,000, Gwalior State and Burma coming next with just over 5 lakhs per company while Bengal ranks 7th on this list. But the case of Bengal is peculiar. Its principal industry, jute and tea, is largely managed by companies registered abroad with foreign capital. The following observation of the Review on foreign capital in India may be reproduced with advantage.

"The total number of such companies working at the end of 1919-20 for which returns are available was 634, and the paid up capital thereof amounted to £420,633,000, besides £102,730,000 being the amount issued as debentures. Railways represented £35,444,000 of the capital and £41,907,000 of the debentures. Of the remainder the sterling share capital invested in the tea industry was £17,990,000 and in jute mills £2,394,000. The gold fields in Southern India are chiefly worked by companies formed in the United Kingdom, the paid-up-sterling capital invested therein being £2,085,000.

It should, however, be borne in mind that in the case of the most of the Banking and Insurance companies and of some of the navigation and other trading companies incorporated outside India, only a partion, sometimes very small portion, of the capital shown above is invested in India, as these companies work also in other countries besides India, and information regarding the portion of their capital invested in India is not obtainable." In view of the very general popular opinion, which regards these foreign companies as so many leeches for sucking India dry of her resources, it is a great pity that the official compilers of such statistics should content themselves with this trivial plea of non possumus year in year out, and thereby afford an excuse for extravagant charges of undue partiality or sympathy for foreign enterprise in the Indian Government circles.

ECONOMIC LITERATURE.

MYSORE ECONOMIC JOURNAL, April, 1922, Journal of the Indian Economic Society March.

In the matter of Economic literature, we in this country are in a painfully awkward situation. Judging merely from the volume of books and pamphlets, particularly from Bengal, a casual observer would be tempted to say we are suffering from a plethora of such literature. Thinking only of the quality of the work the careful student would find a wearisome reiteration of conclusions which are hardly distinguishable from personal opinions and facts which sadly lack substantiation. That the Indian people need to be enlightened on the economics of the situation is a truism which no one would contest who knows the apalling ignorance of the general public on such matters; but it may be doubted if text-books and pamphlets and periodicals exclusively in a foreign language would effectively help us to educate our masters, the coming democracy in India. The periodical literature of the type exemplified by the journal mentioned at the top may rightly be looked to for correcting the shortcoming. But unfortunately they are conducted on lines too far removed from sound instruction or enlightenment on specific questions. Both of the journals noticed here are packed with matter—all rather old, and quite unilluminating. The straits to which the editors of the journals must have been put cannot be better illustrated man by the fact that the Mysore Economic Journal devotes 17 good pages of double column each—to give the text of Sir M. Hailey's Budget, without, a word of explanation, criticism or commendation. The other journal has three out of its four principal articles reproducing the papers read at an Economic Conference six months ago, of which two deal with Railways. We give up the Mysore Journal as it has more reproductions than original substance of any kind. But even the Bombay periodical, which has no doubt some informative articles, would do better if it were more original and up-to-date.

HAGUE RULES.

THE HAGUE RULES EXPLAINED. By Sanford D. Cole. (Published by Effingham Wilson.).

Every country has its own code of shipping rules, but of late certain international conventions had grown up which were respected by all civilised countries. After consultation with representatives of the interests concerned from numerous maritime States, the rules were settled during a conference of the International Law Association at the Hague in September, 1921. The book contains the English and French texts of the rules with explanatory notes dealing with special points, including the question of "Received for Shipment" bills of lading.

THE BUDDHIST ANNUAL.

THE BUDDHIST ANNUAL OF CEYLON—Published by W. E. Bastian and Co., Colombo.

We have received the third number of this magazine devoted to the propagation of the gospel of Buddha. It contains two learned articles on Free Will and the Ethics of Suicide, the latter being a comparative study in Greek, Latin and Buddhist literature. The number under review publishes some good poetry besides numerous articles and a brief biographical sketch of Henry Clarke Warren, joint-founder of the Harvard Oriental series. The place of honour, however belongs to a delightful little story of Tibetan life which reminds one of Babu Puran Sing in Kipling's "Jungle Tales." The magazine is profusely illustrated and gives a synopsis of Buddhist activities in all parts of the world.

ARTHUR AVALON.

Sir John Woodroffe, who under the nom-de-plume of "Arthur Avalon" has written quite a series of highly scholarly works on Tantra Shastra and who some years ago received from the Shastra and who Shri Bharata Dharmamahmandala at Benares the title of "Tantrabhushan," was again honoured at Puri on the 28th inst. with the title of "Tantravachaspati" conferred upon him by the pandits of the Muktimandap Sabha of the great temple of Jagannath. Mahamahopadhyaya Sadasiva Misra composed a Sanskrit address in praise of the recipient who replied that it was not only he who was honoured thereby but the greteess of the Tantra Shastra was also thus acknowledged. The meeting was held at the Vedavidyalaya and was largely attended. Shri Shankaracharya Madhavananda Tirthaswami of the Govardhana Math presided.
